Kelly,

It looks to me as if we will be able to offer you: (i) 7 tutorials for half a semester for Brian's logic course; (ii) three tutorials right through the semester, for my Politics and Rights course.

If this were offered, would you take it?

Also, have you applied for the GTP? Daniel and I had a query that they did not seem to have had any philosophy applications. It is important that you go for this, and in addition we would need for you to indicate that you'd need financial support from them.

I hope to be able to clarify what tutoring can, in fact, be offered in a couple of days time, and please don't discuss this with anyone else, yet - other than checking with Kim that he'd be happy for you to be taking on all this work.
